

Each party we work on is unique. Simply because each person is unique! Whatever kind of party you want, we'll bring it together. We'll listen to your requirements, discuss the options we think would work and, between us, we'll create a simply brilliant party. We won't take over but we'll take as much off your shoulders as you're prepared to relinquish. We've organised so many parties in our time, it's like second nature - we're professional, organised and personable. Trust your event to Prop and we promise you won't be disappointed.

Below is a list of services we offer but we will create a bespoke package for you:
